Intelligent Sun Control Solutions®

ALL SEASONS

Helioscreen is one of Australia's leading awning brands and the All Seasons folding roof awning offers users a progressive range of sophisticated systems that can withstand the elements and compliment any outdoor area.

The All Seasons range is the ideal system for use in private homes, courtyards, restaurants and commercial applications where the user is seeking more than just protection from the sun. Folding away at the touch of the button the All Seasons retractable awning is designed to ensure the user can get the most out of their area by offering the flexibility of opening or closing the system to suit the weather conditions. Utilising an easy to clean waterproof fabric the system offers 100% rain protection to create an operable outdoor room feel for an All Seasons alfresco lifestyle.

The Helioshade All Seasons range offers an array of options and lends itself to being a flexible solution for all applications thanks to its innovative versatility. Cleverly designed drive system, integrated water seals and optional dimmable 360 degree LED down lighting are just some reasons why the All Seasons is a renowned system and shows why Helioscreen has been a market leader for over 25 years in Australia.

Using the latest European design and engineering the All Seasons range is made from architectural grade aluminium and stainless steel fixtures that have been developed to ensure smooth operation and high durability.

Thanks to the unique high torque motor drive system the fabric is always kept under perfect tension by a self adjusting motor unit. Using optional weather sensors such as wind or rain sensors provides the added benefit of automatic control even when the user is away.

DESIGN SERIES

The Design series is anchored onto an existing wall or structure and is installed with its own frame work, posts and integrated gutter system to offer motorised sun and rain protection for indoor / outdoor living. Available in custom-made sizes with a large range of mounting options the Design series can easily cover large areas in single systems or couple multiple systems side-by-side for greater flexibility.

TREND SERIES

The Trend series offers the option to integrate the benefits of the All Seasons system into a new or pre-existing structure for streamline appeal. Utilising a structure made of steel, wood or even stainless steel the sleek design of the Trend series offers endless possibilities and when incorporated together offers flexibility to work in with surrounding architecture for unrivalled aesthetic appeal.
